

PCDG Construction Construction Office

PCDG Construction was looking for a modular building provider that could build the custom sales center they needed during the development of the high end condo, retail, and auto museum project they were building in Orlando, FL. VESTA Modular was able to provide PCDG what others couldn't do, a custom building and a financing solution that fit within their budget and time frame to complete.

High-End
Development
looking for construction office
within a short time frame.

